

The best parameters are used to train the model on the training set of the outer loop

The process is repeated for the rest 4 of the outer loop's folds. This nested CV gives us a solid result of how our best performer scores.